Local Delivery service

What is the Local Delivery service?

Our Local Delivery service is made up of specially trained Client Support Advisers who are based within every local authority area in Scotland and will be available to help guide people through the application process.

Who can access this service?

Initially, the service will only be available to people who live within the Child Disability Payment pilot areas: Dundee City, Western Isles and Perth and Kinross.

The local delivery service will be available to people who live in every Local Authority area in Scotland from November 2021.

What does a Client Support Adviser do?

A Client Support Adviser will:

- provide information on all our benefits including eligibility, how to apply and where and how to access support
- help to complete paper or online application forms
- carry out identity or document checks
- help people submit change of circumstances information
- help people to submit a compliment, a complaint or feedback
- offer information on the process and timescales of redetermination and appeals
- meet with appointees who are acting on a client's behalf
- refer people or provide information on other relevant services who can provide advice and representation including the Scottish Government's Independent Advocacy service

What does a Client Support Adviser not do?

A Client Support Adviser will not:

- help complete application forms for Department for Work and Pensions (DWP) or Local Authority benefits
- advocate on a person's behalf
- provide advice on money worries or managing debt
- provide help with housing issues

If a client is looking for this kind of support, our Client Support Advisers will refer or provide information on the relevant service.
